

PRIVACY POLICY

Littledeer makes every effort to ensure that all personal information gathered on this site will remain strictly confidential. We respect your right to privacy and will not use, share, or disclose your information to any third party. Additionally, all credit card information is processed over a secure SSL connection.

In order to complete a sale, you must enable cookies on your browser and provide personal information such as credit card numbers and shipping information. We use this information only to the extent required to complete transactions through the Littledeer online store. We ask for your telephone number and email in case of processing or shipping delays, or to clarify an order. We do not solicit by telephone or email without your explicit permission.

We appreciate your comments. Please email us at customerservice@littledeer.ca, or call (450) 658-8271. You are also welcome to post in the comments section of our web site.
